The instrument has been in a cupboard for years and the owner wants to sell as he no longer plays this one, of many in his collection! It is being sold on commission and has been serviced in our workshop as it had minor dents, stiff valves & slides. The valves, slides & guides are still good and it plays beautifully now it's been cleaned, polished serviced.

The finish has some plating wear around the valve block and where it's been in contact with the player. There are also signs of pitting on other parts of the horn but not enough to spoil the amazing finish of this excellent Trumpet.
